The Planet D Nonet was founded by (drummer) RJ Spangler and (trumpeter) James O'Donnell in 2007. Both men are lifelong eastsiders and they have been playing together for over 30 years ago. The band plays the classic swing music of Ellington & Strayhorn, Fletcher Henderson, Count Basie & Benny Carter as well as more modern jazz by Sun Ra and Pharoah Saunders, and always with a Detroit twist. The Planet D Nonet is about swing, blues, space-age jazz and classic American songs all served with plenty of good humor.

Join us for an afternoon of good music and fun at the Library.
Advanced sign-up is appreciated but not necessary.

Concert sponsored by the Friends of the Library
